The Season that Saved the Sharks

Cameron Newbold
ALBANY ADVERTISER

This year was make or break for the Albany Sharks.

The introduction of a player points system that made their club the most likely destination for any new league level footballers to town.

Plus the second year with a new group of senior figures in charge of football operations.

The Sharks themselves said during the off-season that things had to change in 2021 or the club's long-term future was in doubt – and it was hard to argue with them.

In 2012 they fielded their first league team and in nine seasons they won just two league games.

Seven years the Sharks went through a season winless and in those first nine years they finished at the foot of the table in the six-team competition.

The wins in 2015 and 2019 were terrific moments but the success simply didn't last.

The Sharks made some tough decisions at the back end of 2019 and in the lead-up to the 2020 season, which was shortened by COVID.

The appointment of Jamie Ramm and a group of smart football brains around him was the first step.

The next critical move was the players, and this took some time.

Ramm came to the helm too late in the piece last season to make significant inroads in player recruitment.

However that changed significantly this year.

A big name signing like Brett Peake was just what the club needed but it was the ability to find solid, league footballers that had come to the region that rapidly gave the Sharks some depth.

The Sharks had always had young talent but the additions of Ben Watson, Jonathan Leach, Clayton Walton, Jack Adams, William Morris and Dane Holdman to name a few have been critical.

A full season from Cameron Jones, the return of Robbie Lee and the emergence of talented young trio Flynn Breuker, Max Baker and Mitch Collier has provided great balance for the Sharks.

The proof has been in the pudding.

Six victories from 14 games is a terrific return for this young club and they have created more history last week but securing their maiden finals berth.

Their win over Mt Barker was hard work and there were some nervous moments post-game after confusion over the final scores.

The result was confirmed and deservedly the Sharks locked in a top four spot, a small reward for the hard work put in over a number of years.

This is a moment the club should savour but knowing those in charge, they will be highly motivated to tick off the next box and win their first-ever final.

The Sharks playing finals is exactly what the Great Southern Football League needs.

Because any longer struggling at the foot of the ladder and the prospect of a five-team competition was an increasingly more likely scenario.

Finally on a side note, congratulations to Royals stalwart Ryan Kinnear on playing his 250th league game.

Not only has he joined elite company at his club but there are very few country footballers that reach this major individual milestone.

Five league premierships, a best and fairest winner and one of the best left-foot kicks you will come across.

He is one of the good guys in footy and has been a joy to watch go about his business on that familiar wing. •

REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT SPECIALIST

Saturday the 21st of August is the Ravensthorpe and Districts Football Association Grana Final, being held in Lake King at the Lake King Sporting Complex between Ravensthorpe and Hopetoun. Ravensthorpe and Hopetoun are the only two teams in the league, so there is a lot of built of competitiveness between the two teams. Good luck to both teams.

The OFA are into their first week of finals, with Gnowangerup playing Newdegate on Saturday in Newdegate for the winner to go straight to the Grand Final, and Boxwood Hill playing Lake Grace/Pingrup on Sunday in Jerramungup, for the winner to play the loser between Gnowangerup and Newdegate.

Congratulations to Fraser House (Gnowangerup FC) on winning the Les Ganzer medal count in the OFA with 27 votes, defeating fellow teammates Scott Anderson (26 votes) and Elliot Jaeschke (25 votes) in a thrilling vote count that came down to the last round.

Two big carnivals were held this week in Albany. On Thursday the 19th a the 'Try a New Sport' carnival was run coordinating with Hockey WA, Football West and Rugby WA. This day is all about kids trying a new sport that they would be interested in participating in outside of school. On Friday the 20th the Dockers Cup was held, which is an all-girls carnival between Year 5-6 girls. Eight schools participated in a fantastic day full of future GSFLW stars. •
